

Teaching & Learning Faculty Workshop

Sponsored by the MSU College of Nursing and the Teaching & Learning Committee

Authenticity in the Classroom

A special session for MSU College of Nursing faculty

College of Nursing faculty are invited to join Marilyn Lockhart, Interim Director of Faculty Development at MSU, for a discussion about authenticity in college classes. You will have the opportunity to assess your own authenticity in your classes (an assessment instrument will be emailed to you after you RSVP).

Dr. Lockhart will share the results of a survey asking almost 200 MSU students about the importance of authentic teaching.

The following related article is available from The Teaching Professor, Magna Publications:

Authenticity in the Classroom. Weimer, M.E. (2011, October 1)
Click here to access the article.

Tuesday, Nov. 15, 2011

114 Sherrick Hall (videoconference room)
12:00-1:00 p.m. • Brown bag meeting

RSVP is required to receive assessment instrument: please respond to annea@montana.edu by Monday, Nov. 14, 2011.

*This workshop is worth
1 unit toward the Certificate of Teaching Enhancement.*

Click here for more information.

This session will also be available live via videoconferencing at the distant campuses:

Billings campus 318 Apsaruke Hall
Great Falls campus Room 203
Missoula campus 134/136 North Corbin Hall

For participants who connect via telephone:

Teleconference number: (406) 994-7230
Conference ID: 406510