Blended Courses: How to Design Them and
What Are Best Practices

Monday, November 18, 2013, 11:45 a.m.-1:00 p.m., SUB 233

In this interactive and practical session, you will learn and discuss how to integrate online and face-to-face components of your class using research best practices as a foundation. At the end of the session you will be able to create a continuous learning cycle and rhythm in your blended course that can result in increased student learning outcomes.

If you are teaching a blended course, bring your experiences to share.

Presenters: Amanda Buckley, Extended University; and Ritchie Boyd & Marilyn Lockhart, Center for Faculty Excellence.

Lunch will be served at 11:45 a.m. followed by the presentation from 12:00-1:00 p.m.

Registration is required by 5:00 p.m., Friday, Nov. 15; to register, go to:
